annual report

STRONG family STRONG child

Whatever it takes...

We understand that family circumstances can change in an instant. We understand that parenting is not always easy. You are not alone. Let us be there for you. Let us be there for your child. Let us help you achieve a strong and happy family and ensure a bright future for your child!

OUR GOAL

I have written many articles over my twenty five years at Children's Bureau for many different publications, but this by far is the most difficult. This is my last address for our Annual Report as I announced my leaving our beloved organization effective August 1, 2012.

This composition goes beyond the normal confines of focusing on our past year's challenges and achievements. It also will reflect on my fifteen years as President and CEO. I am also going to liberally use some quotes from my piece called Today and Tomorrow in our 2001 History Booklet: For the Children's Sake.

2011 was marked by several significant events. We enjoyed the best COA peer review site visit report ever. We have, along with only 2% of organizations like ours internationally, remained accredited by the Council of Accreditation for children and family services since 1979. Every four years we go through a volitional stringent process to ensure we remain qualitatively one of the best agencies in the country when it comes to governance practices and program services. All of our twenty two programs must meet COA's standards to attain this premier accreditation. This past review we had no negative findings in 900 plus standards. As the President and CEO of COA Richard Klarberg related in his congratulatory letter confirming our reaccreditation, this was "An amazing achievement."

We reclaimed the Indiana Department of Child Services statewide contract for the Adoption Recruitment and Retention Program. This means we again produce the Adoption Book that lists several special needs children awaiting adoption in Indiana.

We also expanded our childcare voucher intake program by three more Indiana Family and Social Services Administration regions. We now are the largest contractor in the state for this important service. This in turn added our 15th office which is in Lafayette.

We began the first expansion of our PRO 100 Summer Youth Employment program in concert with the Glick Family Foundation. The new pilot program will be in Muncie and in partnership with Ball State University. With the Glick Foundation's and Marianne Glick's financial and visionary strategic support respectively, envision that this is the beginning of a major expansion of the longest running summer youth employment program in Indiana.

We transferred all of our owned properties to our Foundation. This better protects those assets and

IS TO DEVELOP A HEALTHY FAMILY FOR EVERY CHILD.

Father Engagement Program

This program offers services to successfully engage fathers in individual and group services to improve the safety, stability, well being, and permanency for the their children who are involved in the child welfare system. Through evidence based research the Children's Bureau and the Department of Child Services has identified the following traits in children with fathers who are more engaged:

- more likely to stay in school
- less likely to be involved in crime, drugs and alcohol
- less likely to develop emotional or behavior issues.

CARING father CARING son transfers the depreciation expenses off our program operations' shoulders.

Unfortunately, as we closed out our 160th year of changing children's and their family's lives, Clara Anderson, our Chief Advocacy Officer, retired. She was a star. Her advocacy and public efforts along with others statewide, helped establish the Commission on Child Welfare and the Commission on Disproportionality which both led to substantial change for the better in our state with how we serve our most vulnerable children and families.

As I move on, please indulge me as I reflect on my tenure as President and CEO. In 1997, when I became CEO after ten years with our agency, we served 2104 children and families in nine office/facility locations primarily serving Marion County with one satellite group home in Terre Haute. Our year end revenue was $8.4 million. Our Foundation had around $1.4 million in assets. Fast forward to 2011. We served 31,773 children in 16,973 families in fifteen office/facility locations directory serving 52 of Indiana's 92 counties. Our year end revenue was $14.9 million prior to audit. Our Foundation assets were $12 million. We have grown substantially geographically and programmatically all the while focusing on one child in one family at a time.

How has this happened? It has happened due to great board leadership, a great management team, great program and administrative staff, great volunteers, great supporting and funding partners and a new Department of Child Services that has made many progressive changes in how we address the horror of child abuse and neglect in our state. Their priorities nontraditionally opened up significant funding for child maltreatment prevention and family engagement services which we have cooperatively and innovatively embraced. As I leave our organization and the children we serve, we are in a much better place than when I started here in 1987. It is an emotional parting for me as I love Children's Bureau and the people associated with it. I will leave you all with a few quotes of mine from our sesquicentennial history book. They warrant repeating.

"As long as a child goes to bed at night hungry and cold from poverty and neglect, or bruised from abuse, there will be a need for organizations like ours."

"What has made the Children's Bureau great and powerful has been the people that have lived out their personal missions and careers through their service with this historic organization."

"As long as there are human beings like those associated with Children's Bureau, be it staff, volunteers, or supporters, who weep for and serve other's children, there is hope. There is hope that the sadness for some children will diminish, that their pain will be alleviated, and that the health of their bodies and spirits will be restored. Such is the legacy of Children's Bureau's past and the promise of its future."

Thank you all for the opportunity to serve such a wonderful organization with such a relevant and life changing mission. It has been my pleasure.

Bright Futures

Our Gene Glick Family Support Center is LEED Certified. The facility provides an infinitely healthier environment for the children we serve, while demonstrating good environmental and financial stewardship in our community.

Children's Bureau, Inc. Our mission is to preserve families and protect the future of Indiana's children. We operate more than 20 programs that impact children and families in 52 Indiana counties. Generous support from individual supporters, as well as corporate partners, helps us sustain these programs. Below are a ways you can support us and help make a positive impact in the life of a child or their family.

Ways to Support us in Our Mission:

- Submit a donation by cash or check to Children's Bureau, Inc., Attn: Development, 1575 Dr. Martin Luther King Junior St. Indianapolis, IN 46202
- Donate via credit card online at www.childrens-bureau.org
- Make a Pledge Donors may wish to make a gift to Children's Bureau, Inc. in successive payments overtime. We can setup a pledge with multiple payments and send you a timely reminder.
- Give a gift "In Honor of" or "In Memory of" a friend, family member, employee or mentor .
- Give a gift of Life Insurance Donors may name Children's Bureau, Inc. as owner and beneficiary of a new or existing life insurance policy and receive a current income tax deduction.
- Contribute Publicly Traded Securities Donors with greatly appreciated securities can contribute them to Children's Bureau, Inc. and avoid significant capital tax gains.
- Planned Giving/Legacy Society Donors may provide for bequests to Children's Bureau, Inc. in their will or living trust. These gifts may be for set amounts or for a percentage of the estate's value; they are exempt from state tax. A planned gift allows you to retail the use of your assets during your lifetime, while leaving behind lasting support for the organization. Children's Bureau recommends that anyone interested in making a gift through a will consult with their attorney or estate planner.
- Individual Retirement Accounts (IRA) Donors may designate Children's Bureau, Inc. as the beneficiary of an IRA. This is a great way to make a charitable gift using an asset that otherwise might be heavily taxed as part of the donor's estate.
- Charitable Remainder Trusts (CRT) CRT's allow donors to place assets such as cash, securities or real estate in a trust, which then invests the asset. The trust provides income to the donor or loved one for life, after which the trust balance goes to Children's Bureau, Inc.
- Charitable Gift Annuities With a charitable gift annuity, donors enter a contractual agreement to transfer cash or stock to Children's Bureau, Inc. in exchange for a lifetime of income. There are tax benefits for making the gift, as well as attractive, age-based payout rates.
- Corporations interested supporting Children's Bureau, Inc. can do so by sponsoring a variety of agency events or by offering underwriting support for one of our many programs and services.

WAYS TO GIVE

For more information on the above or other ways to support Children's Bureau, Inc., please contact the Development Department at 317-264-2700.

"Children's Bureau has changed not only my life, but that of my whole family."

It just fills my heart and soul with a complete sense of fulfillment and purpose to become a little part of what you guys do for children and families. I don't only have testimonials to say, I am a living testimony of the fruits of the company's mission to serve. To say the least, Children's Bureau had brought me back to life. I come to work everyday joyful and desiring to work as hard, to give back as much, to live the mission by rendering full support to each one in my office, each one in my TEAM, with all I've got. I wake up each day always optimistic to bring that change. To be that change...

Staff members Lisa Peck (l) and Janet Meeker (r) volunteered to work the "Beat the Pro" contest during the Annual Children's Bureau Golf Outing Fundraiser.

I love my job...

...when my clients have been out of the system for over 4 years and they still contact me to let me know how they are doing and how much Scattered Sites helped. I am so proud to have been a part of their lives.
